Foreword

We go to meet life confidently, grateful for the opportunities that we have had and for our memories of Martin College. May this Martinaire serve to keep those memories bright as we, endued with the ideals and inspiration we have received here, take our places in the world. In this book we have attempted to perpetuate these happy memories of this college year and to show how the various activities in which we take part help to mold and shape our characters, imparting to us the spirit of fraternal love and comradeship.

Dedication

MRS. PEARL BUTLER LOWE

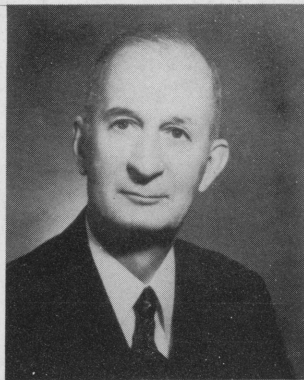

To one whose understanding, patience, and loyalty has endeared her to the hearts of Martin College students we dedicate this, the 1951 Martinaire. Because of her gracious manner as hostess of Tennessee Hall, she will be remembered long as a faithful friend and guiding hand to all the students who have known her through the years.

To Students, Faculty and Friends of Martin College:

This mid-century school year has been one of especial significance in the life of Martin College.

At a time when most colleges are retrenching in the face of the present difficulties, Martin College boldly is laying plans to go forward. Being the only Methodist College in Middle Tennessee, we realize that our only right response to the present situation -- which is a spiritual and cultural crisis as well as a military and political crisis -- is to move NOW into the front lines in the battle for the minds and hearts of men.

This having been my own freshman year as president of Martin College, I appreciate with particular warmth the unexcelled good spirit of the student body, the capable and cooperative work of the faculty and staff, the understanding and wise counsel of the trustees, and the generous interest of numerous friends of the College.

We look to the years ahead with eagerness and confidence.

Association

The Student Christian Association is a campuswide interdenominational organization. The cabinet (composed of officers elected by the students and various cabinet members appointed by the S.C.A. president) has a large share in directing the religious life of the campus. Through it students take part in Wednesday Evening Vespers, Religious Emphasis Week, Church School, Youth Fellowship, and other activities. When students take part in these activities, their religious life is strengthened, and campus life becomes more satisfying.

The purposes of the Martin College S.C.A. are to encourage the personal religious beliefs of every student; to lead each to the church of his choice; and to integrate the various groups on the campus into a healthy community, living in the spirit and teachings of Jesus; therefore, the S.C.A. is used by the students to help them grow in their Christian experience; to strengthen their relationship with God; to draw them closer to the Source of all knowledge, power, understanding and wisdom, and to bind them in a closer fellowship and friendship among one another.

Phi Theta Kappa is an honorary fraternity whose purpose is to promote scholarship, to develop character, and to cultivate fellowship among the students. This chapter, which was chartered in 1931, is the Alpha Omega Chapter.

Delta Psi Omega Pledges

Mrs. J. Floyd Gilbreath, Sponsor, Pedro Soto, Virginia Wynn, Alvis Davis, Frances Abernathy, Nathalee Pennington, Willa Witt, Tommy Meadows, Barbara Howard, Sara Dean, Gayle Clark.

The purpose of the Delta Psi Omega is to stimulate interest in dramatic activities and to secure for the college all the advantages of a large national honorary fraternity. Membership in the organization serves as a reward to worthy students for their efforts in participation in the plays staged by the dramatic organizations of the College.

International Relations Club

Joe Dillon . . . . . President
 Emmeline Shipp . . . . . Vice-President
 Tommy Harrison . . . . . Secretary-Treasurer
 Miss Rosa Bludworth . . . . . Sponsor

The purpose of the International Relations Club is to "fix the attention of students on the underlying principles of international conduct, of international law, and of international organization" which provide for a world of peace and security. It is open to all students who are interested in national and international affairs. The project during this year has been to sponsor material aid to war-torn Europe.

The purpose of this organization is to establish and maintain a happy and wholesome home life in the dormitory. It strives to cultivate an atmosphere which develops personalities with respect for the individual and courteous concern for the entire group. Its motto is the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you".

Student Volunteers

David Eliason . . . . . Chairman

The Student Volunteers is a department of the S.C.A. composed of students entering into a life of full-time service for Christ and those who sincerely intend to follow the teachings of Jesus in whatever vocation they might choose. Through weekly meetings, cell groups, and participation in devotions, both public and private, the Student Volunteers have become a vital part of the religious life at Martin College.

The Ministerial Association, a part of the S.C.A., is composed of ten students who plan to be ministers. This is one of the largest functioning groups of student pastors the college has ever known. Most of them have already received their local preacher's licenses and some are serving regular pastorates. Actual practice is combined with classroom theory in order to serve the Church while they are studying the art of human relations. Semi-monthly meetings are held with ministers of various faiths addressing the group.

The objectives of the Commercial Club are to promote a better understanding of modern business methods, to provide social gatherings for the promotion of fellowship and good will among members, to elevate the status of its members, and to advance their interests. One of its projects for the year was to open and be in charge of the Student Center.

Pedro Soto, Miss Rosa Bludworth, Mary Elizabeth Higgins, Emily McConnell, Alvis Davis, Patty Sue Ray, Patsy Benton, Joan Westenberger, Mr. Frank Ferguson.

P.K. Group

The P.K. group is composed of sons and daughters of ministers. This group of preachers' kids is not an organized club, but there is a close tie of fellowship among them because of their similar experiences before coming to Martin College.

*Life at Martin,
Life of dreams,
Now moves on to closing scenes.*

September 19 .....

Guess who arrived today? You guessed it. Many tired, timid freshmen. We were all so excited we wonder if anyone passed his I.Q. test. Tonight after many introductions and much shaking of hands covered with paper bags we were entertained by the freshmen "Stars of Tomorrow". The freshman girls then grouped together for courage and were entertained, after hours, by Miss Nancye Dunn and her magic tricks.

September 20 .....

Whew! Whew! "I wonder if I'll ever get through this and get some lunch", was the thought in every junior's mind. While the juniors were struggling with registration cards the seniors arrived and began to renew friendships from last year. Tonight after many more introductions we all joined in folk games on the lawn and then feasted on cokes and doughnuts.

September 21 .....

"Where's Room 8?" This was a favorite question among the juniors early in the morning, since this was the first day they attended classes. At 10:00 o'clock the Rev. A.J. Davis gave a short introduction of Dr. Joe Quillian, our new president. Dr. Quillian welcomed us to Martin and told us to learn to get wholesome knowledge, not just book knowledge.

September 23 .....

What a picnic!! The school played host to the students at Bevel Springs. Everyone donned a bright red hat and blue jeans, found a seat on the bus and off we went, singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart". We fell in love with Bevel Springs the minute we saw it. We then hiked, played softball and horseshoes. Next we heard, "Get your coat hangers and gather around the campfire." We followed orders and then -- "Ah! look at that table." We ate and afterwards formed a circle around the campfire and sang "ole favorites" until time to return to school.

September 24 .....

Today we all attended our first worship service of the year here in Pulaski. A large majority of the students went to the Methodist Church in observance of Martin College Day.

September 29 .....

Tonight at a formal reception in Tennessee Hall Dr. and Mrs. Quillian, along with the faculty, were formally introduced to the students and town people. Delicious refreshments were served from the beautifully decorated table.

October 9 .....

"Do you have a baby doll? If so, bring it along with you to the gym tonight for the Big, Little Brother, Sister Party." This is what we heard from the seniors who were planning the party for the new additions to the school. Joan Westenburger and Finis Bearden won first prizes as the cutest dressed with Miss Bludworth and Mr. Smith receiving honorable mention.

October 15 .....

"Swing your partner and do si do." Yes, that's Mr. Petty calling the square dance for us. We danced until we were dizzy and then greedily sipped our cokes. Then we danced some more and everyone agreed that it had been a wonderful time together.

October 31 .....

Hammer! Hammer! Yes, that was the sound of junior preparations for the Halloween party tonight. The gym was ghostly looking with Jack-o'-lanterns peering from the windows. There were fortune tellers, side shows and -- alas! -- the house of horrors. After the hair-raising spook story told by Mr. Ferguson, the cider and doughnuts served to revive the students.

November 7 .....

Dr. Marcus Bach ended his series of lectures on religious sects, at the Methodist Church tonight.

Dr. Bach's presence on the campus proved to be an inspiration to all those who heard him speak or talked with him personally. He has spent his life studying various religions and perhaps knows as much on the subject as any man alive. Dr. Bach exemplifies the theory that it is in becoming acquainted intimately with things about which usually little is known, that we become completely tolerant in our ideas and beliefs.

November 19 .....

"O.K., Girls, here's your chance." You're right; that was the theme of the Sadie Hawkins' day race. There was a real Li'l Abner along with Daisy Mae and all the Dogpatch characters. Then a party, true Dogpatch style, was held. Even Kip a poo joy juice and cookies were served.

November 24 .....

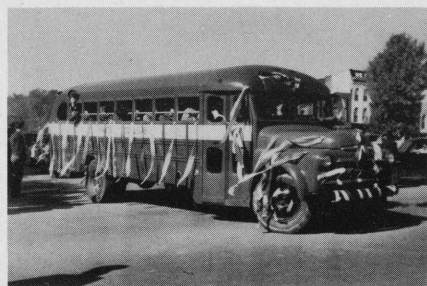

Breathe again! Thanksgiving holidays and we were all given a chance to breathe and forget studies for five days.

December 3 .....

"What, Christmas this early?" was the thought in everyone's mind tonight as the Martin College Chorus sang on the public square for the official turning on of the Christmas lights. Oh, yes! Santa Claus talked to us from the North Pole.

December 12 .....

Today we start off on a new quarter. Most of the juniors look happier since they have more nights out -- reward for achievement in grades.

THE NEW BUS

OUR PRESIDENT AND DR. BACH

December 16 .....

"Hey girls, where are you going in those blue jeans?" was one of the questions asked today. The answer was we were going after mistletoe and holly. Joe Williams seemed to be the only monkey who could secure mistletoe from the tree tops and Joan Westenburger was the fortunate lady who carried the holly. "Oh, yes! Did anyone get caught under the mistletoe?" We came back to school and decorated Tennessee Hall. The Booneville, Mississippi, basketball teams were filled with the Christmas spirit when they were greeted with our decorations.

December 18 .....

"What beauty!" was one comment heard from those who attended the Christmas Pageant this afternoon. The chorus provided the music for the simple, lovely story of the birth of Christ, entitled "In David's Town." Many hours of hard work went into this ministry of music and pageantry which proved to be so impressive.

December 19 .....

Uh's and Ah's were the favorite expression as the girls swished down the stairs in their evening dresses and the soft blue light under the angel hair cast a romantic spell over Tennessee Hall. Soon we were led down to the dining hall which was beautifully decorated with pine and holly and lighted with candles. We enjoyed a wonderful meal of turkey, cranberry sauce and mince meat pie. At eleven o'clock all the girls were starry eyed and excited over the christmas gifts they had received.

December 20 .....

"Goodbye and Merry Christmas" was the cry of all as each made his way home looking forward to a Merry Christmas.

January 1 .....

Some of us arrived today ready and waiting to begin the new year aright by making many new resolutions which we will probably begin breaking tomorrow.

January 16 .....

"Dere's Animals and Animals" --- You guessed it. The Ambassador Male Quartet visited the campus, gave a program, and extended their visit into a vacation.

January 25 .....

"What am I offered for a date with the handsome Mr. Meadows?" Yes, your memory serves you right. That was Bruce Matthews at the W.S.S.F. auction. We had a good time and the auction was a success, bringing in over 220 dollars for overseas student relief.

February 3 .....

"Put on your ice skates and ski over to the auditorium to the concert given by Mr. Taffs", was the most frequently repeated statement today. The snow was all around, but the concert and reception were a success.

February 15 .....

Today we sang "We're Sorry You're Going Away" and really meant it because Glenn Mengledorff was leaving us after spending four days here on the campus. Glenn with his youth and vitality, imparted to us much of his friendliness and the secret of his Christian character.

February 23-25 .....

"Dare We Be Christians?" This was the question presented to us at the Student Christian Conference held at Scarrett College. We all came back with more zeal to be Christians than before. Dr. Roy L. Smith and Mrs. Arnold Nash were the principle speakers and contributed much to the meeting.

March 12 .....

Well, our last quarter of this year is beginning today. Just three more months and school will be out.

March 22 .....

Off we go home to don a new outfit for Easter. It'll be nice to get home for a few days, but it will be just as nice to get back to Martin again on the 27th.

April showers brought:

Chorus trips galore! Early Sunday morning breakfasts, bus trips, entering new churches, seeing crowds of people with a few familiar faces, singing, eating, chatting gaily of next years' plans with new found friends, riding, eating and singing again, then returning late at night weary and happy to dream of the next trip.

May 4-5-6 .....

What a wonderful weekend! The members of the old and new S.C.A. cabinets journeyed to Beersheba Springs for the annual retreat. Glenn Mingledorff was present to lend assistance and advice for next year's program.

May 11 .....

On this night the seniors were treated royally by the junior class. The junior-senior party was a huge success with the usual fun and gaiety of a social at Martin. Memories of nights such as this will long be treasured.

June 4 .....

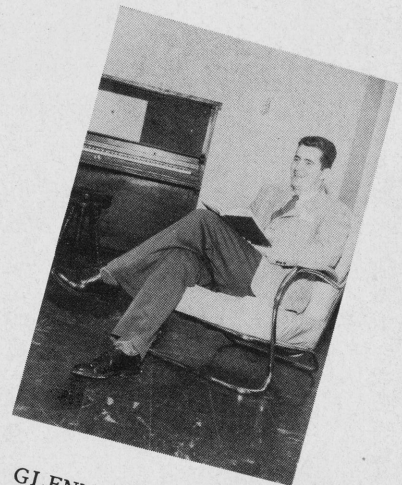

At last the big day arrives, but instead of all smiles we find a few tears of sadness as we walk across the campus for the last time as students of Martin College. We have made friends that we will never forget and it is not goodbye to Martin, just so-long for a little while.

MR. TAFFS

CHRISTMAS BANQUET

GLENN MINGLEDORFF

FRED HARPER

The lad with the merry twinkle in his eye and a smile for everyone is the senior class President, Fred Harper. He is a good leader in Christian work and campus activities. His membership in Phi Theta Kappa testifies to a high scholastic standing. The old saying, "A friend in need is a friend indeed", certainly applies to Fred.

Campus

NATHALEE PENNINGTON

In Nathalee we find a sincere girl with the highest ideals. Her dependability and earnestness find expression in her soft, appealing voice, and the purity and devotion of her Christian character make her a leader on the campus. As President of the S.C.A. she has been a friend and an inspiration to all the students at Martin. We will long remember Nathalee as our outstanding senior leader.

DAVID ELIASON

"Happy" is the fitting nickname for this senior personality. He is always bubbling over with friendliness and good will. We find in Happy a sincere leader, active and interested in Christian activities on the campus. His sincerity in everyday living has made him a dynamic influence on the Martin campus.

Personalities

BARBARA HOWARD

In her quiet way, Barbara has made a place for herself in the hearts of the Martin College students. Her scholastic average is higher than most; her genuine friendliness and sincerity of purpose have gained for her the admiration of all who know her. Barbara will receive much from this life, because she gives so much.

SARA DEAN

Among the bookstore helpers we'll remember Sara as the little brunette with the great big smile. Her sunny disposition and willingness to do her part in school activities proclaim her as a tireless worker. Her humorous imitation of Minnie Pearl was an unforgettable performance. Sara's enthusiasm and pleasant words make her outstanding around the campus where she can always be found having a good time.

LUKE DUNN

Luke's leadership and friendly disposition have won for him a place in the hearts of Martin College students. His position as President of the Junior class has shown his capability and willingness to "get the job done." Luke has a quiet manner which demands respect from all who know him. We'll remember Luke for his genuine interest in activities on the campus.

BETTY SNAVELY

A combination of wit and good humor make Betty a favorite person around Martin College halls. A typical college girl she possesses unlimited pep and a contagious laugh. Her loyalty as a member of the basketball squad shows her willingness and determination to work hard at whatever she undertakes. Betty's friendly attitude has made her a familiar figure wherever there is a crowd having fun.

JOAN WESTENBERGER

Plenty of pep, laughs, and loyalty to the school are characteristic of this junior favorite. As a cheerleader Joan has had the school spirit that it takes to cheer the boys on to victory. Her friendly manner and smile have been a familiar sight and have won for her a wide circle of friends. She is very versatile, music being another accomplishment of this talented personality.

TOMMY MEADOWS

Lots of laughs and good fun are in store when Tommy joins a group. His interest in Christian activities has made him a leader of outstanding ability. Wit, friendliness, and a good-natured disposition are expressed in his desire to help and be a friend. He is a typical "College Joe" and we'll always remember "Tubby" as a campus favorite.
